Abstract:

Following the end of WWII, the Arabic nations started to gradually regain their independences and reestablish sovereignty over their occupied lands. While this trend was on the rise, a new colony was however about to commence on Palestine. Unlike the conventional colonial imperialistic powers, the constituent of the new colony was not only military orientated but was also accompanied by mass migration of eastern and western European Jews to Palestine. The momentum drive behind that Jewish influx as portrayed by the media, was fleeing from a "Holocaust", a term given to an alleged genocide committed against Jews in Europe during the early forties resulting in the horrific extermination of an announced figure of 6 millions Jew at the hands of the Nazi Germany. The justification for choosing an inhabited Arabic Land – Palestine - to accommodate the fleeing European Jews was a mass exodus return to the ancient Jewish homeland known as the "Promised Land". These two titles, the "Holocaust" and the "Promised Land" were the prime fundamental vindication supporting the ethical and historical justifications for the establishment of the 58 years old state of Israel in the heart of the Arabic world. Overwhelmed by the pounding media influence, the public had at no time properly examined and scrutinized the authenticity of these two titles. However it took little effort for the early revisionist scholars, especially the Europeans, to discover that the claimed "Holocaust" was a sheer Hoax engineered and executed by the WWII victories in calibration with the Zionist movement to achieve mutual long term political and geopolitical benefits. Despite publishing stunning evidence and offering sound arguments and convincing analysis, the leading revisionists, had to date failed to bring the case to the public awareness. As to the "Promised Land" title, no audacious and serious attempts were made to date to shed a light on the historical legitimacy of this claim. The aim of this paper is therefore: firstly, discuss the mythological structure behind the successful domination of a hoax internationally promoted under the title "The Holocaust" which is viewed as the weakest point of an old implanted Jewish Trojan; and secondly, to expose the long overlooked historical Jewish implanted Trojans in the Arabic heritage which paved the way for the implementation of the "Promised Land" saga.

Introduction:

Independent observers' reporting of the WWII aftermath estimates the tragic loss of more than 70 million human beings of all age, class, gender, nationality and creed spectrum. To date, more than seventy years had elapsed since the end of the war, nevertheless, and like the rest of the international nations and communities, the Arabic world heard of no matching mournful remembrance of the total lost valuable lives compared to those victims embracing Judaism in particular. The widely cited estimate of the Jewish victims as traced back to the Allied victories forces established Nuremberg trial mounted to 5.7 millions, most of whom is said to have been systematically gas exterminated and incinerated in the Nazi German camps. This reported estimate represents only 8% of the total WWII victims. Nevertheless, and despite the small comparable portion, the Allied forces-sponsored media had successfully made the world fully conscious of the 8% representing the Jewish Europeans whilst the majority of the "Others"¹ had no comparable attention, and their fate is bound to fade away. Overlooking the worldwide dominating blunt creed- based discrimination between the WWII victims; it took only few years following the war end before numerous independent observers, namely westerns historians and scholars, started questioning the gassing and the incineration allegations as well as the declared 6 millions figure. Consequently, the number has been unofficially revised and sharply dropped to as low as 800,000 Jews most of whom, just like all other victims, died due to numerous causes ranging from starvation and epidemics to mass execution in the Nazi concentration camps. The revisionists or "holocaust deniers" as their adversaries wish to label them, succeeded through their debates and published scholarly work to challenge the active Allied media propaganda and the Zionist allegation, and consequently questioned the legitimacy of the political implications and utilizations of the alleged "Holocaust". However, this success is considered limited as the discussion of the issue is still confined to a relatively small circle of intellectual dignitaries and political elites. It didn't reach the layman in the street nor did it infiltrate pupils' awareness at schools, not to mention most government officials, religious bodies, social and political activists in addition to masses of people around the world are still indoctrinated with the Holocaust and its 6 million Jewish victims as detailed by the allied forces media. The most important reasons for this limited success are not primarily due to scarce resources, lack of political support, or poor arguments and evidences, but rather because the Holocaust saga has been successfully equipped with a mythical propeller, which proved a very effective self-protective long-lasting mass dissemination mechanism. As will be demonstrated in this paper, a complex mixture of old and new myths founded on pre planted legacy type Trojans can indeed effectively mass indoctrinate and brainwash nations together with their descendants generations after generations. In view of this, the Holocaust is perceived as a relatively small but critical ring in a long chain of fabricated ancient myths responsible for shaping our faith, beliefs and the way we perceive the world today. Failing to appreciate this dimension of the Holocaust saga, will contribute to the continuation of the experienced limited success in revealing the truth behind this myth.

The Rabbis and the Art of Myth Making:

Throughout history, few Jewish rabbis in collaboration with ancient superpowers, namely the Greeks and Romans, had successfully introduced themselves and their creed followers as “a Holy Breed - Chosen People” bestowed with special and unique relationships with God as is clearly stated in many of the Torah phrases. This unmerited mass-holiness was successfully marketed in Arabia as well as Europe especially during the Romans era. Arabia however, being the homeland of all heavenly revelations², managed to escape the repercussions of the faked allegation when Christian Gospel followed by the Quran were successively revealed refuting many Jewish claims including the self-declared superiority, for example the Muslims to date read the following argument in their holy book: “[6] Say: “O ye that stand on Judaism! If ye think that ye are friends to Allah, to the exclusion of (other) men, then express your desire for Death, if ye are truthful!” [7] But never will they express their desire (for Death), because of the (deeds) their hands have sent on before them! And Allah knows well those that do wrong!”³ Christians, however, remained under the direct influence of the old Jewish-based teachings especially following the successful marketing of the Holy Book comprising the Torah and the Christian Gospel. Despite being revealed more than 1300 years apart, the successful combination of the two revelations in one book ensured that all Christianity followers are well indoctrinated with the ancient Jewish teachings and myths before even starting to read the Gospel's new teachings. The main implication of this fact is that the Christian believers can no more question the accuracy of the Torah mythical contents. Doing so is implicitly suspecting the accuracy of their own holy book. Subsequently, they became undeclared allies in fulfilling the Jewish myths, including the return to the "Promised Land" in Palestine, or at least recognizing the Jewish right to do so. The "Christian Zionists" groups are a clear example in this context. Those increasingly growing Christians strongly believe that the return of the Jews to the "Holy Land", and the establishment of the State of Israel in 1948, is in accordance with Biblical prophecies⁴, and they find themselves religiously obliged to protect and sustain this myth. As illustrated later on, this successful "Public mythical containment strategy" has been successful in achieving long term political and financial benefits since the time it was first implemented during the Greeks era. Therefore, it is not surprising to note that the holocaust allegation has been marketed in a holy mythical manner to pave the way for the implementation and activation of another Trojan type myth – known as the "Promised Land".

The term used to commemorate the Holocaust amongst Jewish communities and officials in Israel is "Yom Ha-Shoah"⁵ which literally means in Arabic language "The Day of Roasting". However, this expression lacks any religious significance either in Judaism or Christianity. In fact many Orthodox and ultra-Orthodox rabbis in Israel have never endorsed this Memorial Day, nor have they formally rejected it. Moreover, there is no change in the daily religious services in some Orthodox synagogues on Yom Ha-shoah⁶. Interestingly enough, the term "Holocaust" appeared instead and dominated in Europe in place of Ha-shoah. Not surprising, this expression – The Holocaust- does imply a religious significance. "The Holocaust (HOL-ah-kohst)...The derivation of this word comes from the Greek rendering "holocauston," which is a rendering of the Hebrew "Olah" for sacrifice or whole burnt offering"^{7,8} The root word here is "Olah" which is another Arabic word meaning "Ascend or upward" is mentioned in the Torah "I am God who loves justice and hates theft in an Olah offering."⁹ It is also worth noting that "Olah" offering is the only sacrifice that is totally burned up on the altar as explained in this quote "... the Tamid is to be classified as an Olah, a holocaust; it is no different from the others of that same category except that it is a public sacrifice, not a private one. As far as the latter are concerned, the procedure is made very clear by the Torah [Leviticus 1:3-5]: If the offering is a holocaust from the herd, it shall be a male without blemish ... He shall impose his hand on the head of the holocaust and thus it will be effective for him and it will exculpate him. He shall slaughter [it]"¹⁰ As to the six million figure, Prof. Norman Finkelstein believes that it all goes back to the Jewish interpretation of their own ancient myths. He wrote "The Jews, being very intimate with God's predilections, pledged weighty holocaust offerings whenever they begged for a favor or for help in times of desperate straits: "And Jephthah made a vow to the LORD: 'If you give the Ammonites into my hands, whatever comes out of the door of my house to meet me when I return in triumph from the Ammonites will be the Lord's, and I will sacrifice it as a burnt offering.'" [Judges 11:30, 31]. For the permission to return to the Promised Land, God allegedly demanded from them a "6-Million-Holocaust-Offering", so the high priests interpreted a Torah prophecy that reads: "You shall return" (due to a spelling mistake the priests interpret it this way "You shall return, minus 6 million")"¹¹

The last recoded time when humans of different age and gender were executed in a Holocaust type stage was practiced in Najran (one of Yemen's provinces) about 44 years before the birth of prophet Mohammed (570-632 C.E). The victims in that holocaust were actually the Christians while the assassins were the Yemeni Jewish state and its rabbinic authority. The Jewish king title was Di-Nawas, he was also called Yusuf. He decided to force Christian families in his kingdom to convert to Judaism, otherwise they were to face mass holocaust. Many families fled home seeking safety in the surrounding mountains while those who remained behind met their fate. Twenty thousands Christians of all ages reported to have been burned alive in a large dugout pit¹² The incident was so horrific that it was well documented in the Arabia pre-Islamic history and was even mentioned in the Quran "[4] Woe to the makers of the pit (of fire), [5] Fire supplied (abundantly) with Fuel: [6] Behold! They sat over against the (fire), [7] And they witnessed (all) that they were doing against the Believers. [8] And they ill-treated them for no other reason than that they believed in Allah, Exalted in Power, Worthy of all Praise!"¹³ The horrifying news spread around the ancient world and unleashed a world war of that time. Dos Ben Thalabn escaped the Jewish committed holocaust and fled to the Christian Roman occupied Syria carrying an eye-witnessed account of the holocaust committed by the Jews. The shocked Romans, being far away from Yemen, collaborated with one of their allies, the Christian king of Habasha (Ethiopian), named Najashi, to attack Di-Nawas at Yemen. Huge Ethiopian army led by two war Generals - Artah and Ebrah- was mobilized, crossed the red sea with strong armored African elephants, bulldozed the Jewish kingdom, restored Christianity, returned the displaced Christians back to their homeland and occupied Yemen for more than 70 years.

Despite the lack of media attention, numerous reports of archeological missions accidentally discovering the whereabouts of the famous holocaust pit at Najran of Yemen are surfacing. What concerns us here is that the Najran myth indicated that a superpower was in fact triggered and its military might was successfully mobilized to act in favor of a small helpless and hopeless isolated community. Obviously, the genuine mythical and emotional dimension was indeed the active ingredient leading to the reported sequence of events. The question is: Can any other tiny nation or community mimic a myth and expect to harvest the same results? How can one make up a myth and market it worldwide? Is it possible to kidnap other nations' genuine myths and use them to some other nation's benefit? How can one silence those who distinguish the facts from fictions? What would be the consequences if the suppressed truth of forging a myth managed or was allowed to surface? Are there any historical experiences of nations that attempted to utilize other people's myths to their own benefit? And what was the outcome?

Holy breed merits holy Myths:

Based on historical researches and analysis of the Arabic ancient history, it could be said that some of the ancient high profile Jewish rabbis were the masters of the myth-making industry. Equally, they were the masters of the myth-sustaining art. They developed this art when they first started inscribing the Torah during exile at Babel around 586 B.C. This destructive art was passed on from generation to generation as it kept on scoring profitable return. The last time it was practiced was in the 19th century i.e. when the Nazi Holocaust was engineered.

The appetite to embark on making up holy myths developed amongst the leaders of the sons of Israel (Prophet Jacob) while they were in Exile. Nebuchadrezzar raided the Surat Mountains located at the south west borders of Arabia situated between Yemen borders and the holy Makkah city, in order to cleanse out greedy rebellious Arabs from the strategic Misrs, which were then trading stations scattered along the ancient caravan route stretching from Yemen's southern coast to Gaza in south Syria. The reason for the attack was because the Arabs inhabiting the Misrs were heavily Maxing* the traders in addition to continuously increasing the service charges needed to support the long distance travelers¹⁴. They were also blackmailing and raiding the trade caravans, which added another cost for the emerging need for security escort especially between distanced Misrs. The traders absorbed the extra cost by increasing the merchandise prices. This situation was unbearable and was threatening the world economy then, which compelled Nebuchadrezzar to put an end to it*. One of the major raided trouble-making Misrs at Asir Mountains was controlled by Arabs from a tribe known in Arabic as "Bany Esraeal" (Sons of Israel). They had constructed a tiny temple resembling Beit Allah (Bethel) at Makkah for worship. They constructed that temple from the time of prophet Dawood (King David) around 1100 B.C as they had lost touch with the original worship house at Makkah since prophet Yusuf was enslaved and sold at a Misr south of Makkah around 1500 B.C. Like the rest of all other Arabs in exile, the Israelis lost their strategic Misr and were in miserable and humiliating situation compared to the prosperous and lavish life they enjoyed at their moneymaking strategic Misr. However, unlike the rest of the fellow pagan Arabs at exile, the sons of Israel were the oral bearers of the latest heavenly message. They believed they should be treated differently despite their wrongdoings. They were "holy people", a special breed. To convince the world including Nebuchadrezzar of this ideology, the sons of Israel's oral heritage was scripted during exile for the first time. The Syriac scriptures were named the TORAH. From that time on the myth-making industry was unleashed and the entire world was since sentenced to confusion and dilemma as a man-written book was presented to humanity as the accurate and absolute Words of God. The writers, their generations and allies secured numerous materialistic gains by simply altering genuine myths, or even worse, making up ones. The following is an overview of some of the major modified myths and the fabricated ones from Nebuchadrezzar time to the establishment of Israel state in 1948. This overview would help to understand how the Nazi holocaust came about and how it can be defused:

Myth # 1: The Chosen people – God’s children on Earth:

Due to the colonial power’s predetermined intention to create a Jewish state in the heart of the rich Arabic world as demonstrated by the Nov. 2, 1917 Belford Promise and the London conference of 1905, the WWII media propaganda singled out the Jews genocide amongst all other war victims. Consequently, and as much as the Jewish holocaust is vivid, few around the world are hardly aware that millions of Gypsies, Poles, Slavs, physically and mentally disabled persons, Jehovah's witnesses, homosexuals, political prisoners, dissenting clergy, and others were also Nazi victims. In total, estimates of over eleven million diverse and innocent European civilians were slaughtered during WWII. What singled out the European Jews amongst all other victims was that the “others” were not mythically fertile to take up an essential political role. The others simply were not bestowed by God with a "Promised land" in the Arab world, as was the case with the Jews, hence they were of no use to the colonial powers. Moving one step back to inquire about the theologian and the logical reasons leading certain people to be granted an earthly land by God while billions of other human beings throughout time and space are deprived of this privilege? The only explanation given is that the Jews were and are the "Chosen People". This mythical answer puts an abrupt end to the inquiry because only Heaven could answer this question, and opens wide the door for misuses and abuses. It might come to a surprise to note that few around the world in addition to Muslims are aware that the "Chosen people" myth was in fact authentic and true. Equally, they also know that this myth is not valid any more. In this context, the Muslims read in the Quran the following phrase “[47] O Children of Israel! Call to mind the (special) favour which I bestowed upon you, and that I preferred you to all others (for My Message)”.¹⁵ And in the surt Al Maeda the Muslims read: “[16] We did aforetime grant to the Children of Israel the Book, the Power of Command, and Prophethood; We gave them, for Sustenance, things good and pure; and We favoured them above the nations.”¹⁶ Clearly the Muslims admit as per their holy book that the sons of Israel were favored from amongst all Arab tribes to carry and deliver the message of Heaven to the rest of their contemporary nations and that they would remain privileged to heaven for that purpose provided they respected and maintained their oath and covenant. This is also clear for the Jews as well as the Christians who consider the contents of the Jewish Torah as holy as the New Testament. According to the Torah, Israel's character as the chosen people is conditioned by obedience to God's commandments. "Now therefore, if you will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then you shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people. For all the earth is mine: and you shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and a holy nation" (Exodus 19:5, 6). "The Lord did not set his love upon you, nor choose you, because you were more in number than any people; for you were the fewest of all people; but because the Lord loved you, and because he would keep the oath which he had sworn unto your ancestors." (Deuteronomy 7:7, 8). But did the sons of Israel keep the oath and maintain the covenant? As far as the Jewish orthodox and the Muslims are concerned, the answer is clear. The Muslims read in their book: "[155] (They have incurred divine displeasure): in that they broke their Covenant; that they rejected the Signs of Allah; that they slew the Messengers in defiance of right; that they said, "Our hearts are the wrappings (which preserve Allah's Word; we need no more)"; nay Allah hath set the seal on their hearts for their blasphemy, and little is it they believe. [156] That they rejected Faith; that they uttered against Maryam a grave false charge; [157] That they said (in boast), "We killed Al-Masih 'Isa the son of Maryam, the Messenger of Allah"; but they killed him not, nor crucified him, but so it was made to appear to them, and those who differ therein are full of doubts, with no (certain) knowledge, but only conjecture to follow, for of a surety they killed him not."¹⁷ The Christians who are entirely aware of who was behind the crucifixion of Isa (Jesus) as vividly displayed in the "The Passion Of The Christ" - Mel Gibson's movie, also read in their holy book: "But when he saw a number of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said to them, Offspring of snakes, at whose word are you going in flight from the wrath to come? Let your change of heart be seen in your works: And say not to yourselves, We have Abraham for our father; because I say to you that God is able from these stones to make children for Abraham. And even now the axe is put to the root of the trees; every tree then which does not give good fruit is cut down, and put into the fire." (Mathew 3:7-10). Breaching the oath and losing the heavenly privilege is no secret to Jews themselves. The orthodox Neturei Karta* Jews might be the only active group declaring the fact, against Zionist will, that the sons of Israel had indeed lost the holy oath with Heaven and they are being punished for it. Their ideology is noted in this quote "Adherents of Neturei Karta stress those portions in rabbinic literature which state that the Jewish people were first sent into exile from the land of Israel for their sins. Additionally, they maintain the view that any form of forceful recapture of the Land of Israel is a violation of divine will (Babylonian Talmud, tractate Ketubot 111). They believe that the true Commonwealth of Israel can only be reestablished with the coming of the Messiah."¹⁸

Nonetheless, against the will of Heaven, rational and international laws, the Zionists and the allied Colonial powers came to an agreement to reactivate this long expired myth for political reasons, namely to create a physical western extension in the resourceful Arabic world. A mythical type catastrophe focused at the "Chosen People" was needed to move them back to their ancient homeland. A "holocaust" was needed to mobilize the international opinion, financial and political support to justify an exodus to Palestine.

Myth #2: Supremacy by Breed – The Masters and the Goyim:

One of the main accusations to Nazi Germany was that it adopted and practiced superior race ideology leading to the Jewish "Holocaust". Equally, the Jewish rabbis ideologically categorize nations into two fundamental classes; One is either a Jew or a Goyim (Gentile). This classification entailed numerous consequences all of which fall against the goyim. This myth was developed by ancient rabbis to compensate for their lost heavenly status. It was engineered to legitimize fraud, deception, violence and terrorism. These are the same methods known to-date to establish quick and easy unmerited supremacy and wealth. Rabbi Yitzhak Ginsburg declared, "We have to recognize that Jewish blood and the blood of a goy is not the same thing."¹⁹ This statement represents an ideology based on the teaching of the Talmud. The Maimonides (Rambam) wrote concerning saving people's lives, especially concerning saving the lives of Gentiles and Christians, or even Jews who dared to deny the "divine inspiration" of the Talmud: "Accordingly, if we see an idolater (gentile) being swept away or drowning in the river, we should not help him. If we see that his life is in danger, we should not save him."²⁰ The Hebrew text of the Feldheim 1981 edition of Mishnah Torah states, "One million Arabs are not worth a Jewish fingernail."²¹ As to deception and Fraud, Israel Shahak reports the following Talmudic teachings: "It is forbidden to defraud a Jew by selling or buying at an unreasonable price. However, 'Fraud does not apply to Gentiles, for it is written 'Do no defraud each man his brother' [the Halakhah systematically interprets all such idioms as referring exclusively to one's fellow Jew.]". As to theft and robbery: "Robbery of a Gentile by a Jew is not forbidden outright, but only under certain circumstances such as "when the Gentiles are not under our rule," but is permitted "when they are under our rule." Rabbinical authorities differ among themselves as to the precise details of the circumstances under which a Jew may rob a Gentile, but the whole debate is concerned only with the relative power of Jews and Gentiles rather than with universal considerations of justice and humanity."²² The holy Quran confirmed that such was the Jews belief and revealed its baseless grounds: " [75] Among the People of the Book are some who, if entrusted with a hoard of gold, will (readily) pay it back; others, who, if entrusted with a single silver coin, will not repay it unless thou constantly stoodest demanding, because, they say, "There is no call on us (to keep faith) with these ignorant (Pagans)." But they tell a lie against Allah, and (well) they know it. [76] Nay, those that keep their plighted faith and act aright, verily Allah loves those who act aright."²³ Additionally, Professor Israel Shahak also reveals in the following quote the difference between the Jews and the goyim from a genetic perspective "... all non-Jews are totally satanic creatures 'in whom there is absolutely nothing good'. Even a non-Jewish embryo is qualitatively different from a Jewish one. The very existence of a non-Jew is 'non-essential', whereas all of creation was created solely for the sake of the Jews."²⁴

Engineering this Jews-Goyim myth required bold modifications to ancient history. The starting point was Prophet Noah, the alleged father of all humanity following the alleged worldwide flood. His three sons Sham, Ham and Japheth were the candidates for the creation of the Jewish superior race. One of the sons has to be superior and the others had to fade away. This was staged in these phrases "All people on earth are descendants of Noah's three sons...One day he got drunk and was lying naked in his tent. Ham entered the tent and saw him naked, then went back outside and told his brothers. Shem and Japheth put a robe over their shoulders and walked backwards into the tent. Without looking at their father, they placed it over his body. When Noah woke up and learned what his youngest son had done, he said, "I now put a curse on Canaan! He will be the lowest slave of his brothers. I ask the LORD my God to bless Shem and make Canaan his slave. I pray that the LORD will give Japheth more and more land and let him take over the territory of Shem. May Canaan be his slave."(Genesis 9:19-27). This tale is introduced to the world as the words of God! If proven true, that would mean from a sociological perspective that discrimination, slavery, racism and terrorism are legitimate as they were founded and traced back to the father of humanity who is Noah as per the Genesis! Rather than refuting this fairy tale, ancient rabbis spared no effort in promoting the Jewish supremacy. According to the Talmudic Doctrine, non-jews are considered non-human as narrated in this Talmudic quote: "A Jewish priest was standing in a graveyard. When asked why he was standing there in apparent violation of the Mosaic Law, he replied that it was permissible, since the law only prohibits Jews from coming into contact with the graves of humans (Adamites), and he was standing in a gentile graveyard. For it has been taught by Rabbi Simon bin Yohai: 'The graves of gentiles [goyim] do not defile. For it is written, 'And ye my flock, the flock of my pastures, are men (Adam)' (Ezekiel 34:31); only ye are designated men (Adam)."²⁵ In Kerithoth 6b one read "Uses of Oil of Anointing." Our Rabbis have taught: He who pours the oil of anointing over cattle or vessels is not guilty; if over gentiles (goyim) or the dead, he is not guilty. The law relating to cattle and vessels is right, for it is written: "Upon the flesh of man (Adam), shall it not be poured (Exodus 30:32)]; and cattle and vessels are not man (Adam)"²⁶. These doctrines and many others more clearly imply that all humans as long as they are not Jews are not the descendent of Adam hence are all classed as animals. The implication is seen practiced in Palestine today as per this holy license "A Jew who killed a righteous gentile is not executed in a court of law. It says in Exodus 21:14, 'If a man schemes against his fellow man and kills the man deliberately, take him away from the altar and put him to death.' But a gentile is not considered a man, and even more so, a Jew is not executed for killing an unrighteous gentile."²⁷ What is interesting here is that these myths are corrupted images of other genuine ones. Scientists are continually discovering Hominid species that had roamed earth millions of years ago. Those human-like creatures were lacking intelligence and therefore were not scientifically classified as humans, such as Australopithicus, afarensis, Homo habilis and many others. Those creatures have been addressed in all heavenly revelations as some of them were around up to Noah's time. They are not descendent of Adom (came about approximately 45 thousands years ago) and are not held accountable in the Day of Judgment. The ancient rabbis were totally aware of this fact revealed by ancient prophets but modified it to achieve the desired supremacy. They simply applied the fact on the wrong place and time, most likely deliberately rather than due to lack of understanding of the Arabic heritage. Their misrepresentation of the prophetic knowledge in numerous fields alienated science from ancient accumulated knowledge simply to attain vainglory. Consequently, what meant to be trivial information became a leap in science discovery. To rectify this old entrenched damage, Al-Tajdeed* researchers published 14 books presenting the kidnapped ancient Arabic knowledge without the ancient rabbis modifications or omissions. In this context "The First Creation"²⁸ and "Adam's sin"²⁹ uncover the real Epic of the human being evolution as told by ancient Egyptians, Assyrians, and Babylonian and confirmed by the Gospels and the Quran. The book "Adam's sin" proves that Adam is the one who committed the sin and Eve was made to be blamed for her husband's fault. This was also the result of modifying the "apple myth" which unjustly paralyzed half of the goyim society making the control of the other half easier. The apple and the sin which is mostly still being committed by men until now, and many more related issues are restored to their real meaningful rationale in the above mentioned books.

Myth # 3: The Promised Land ver. 01 – Holy Deeds of the Incense Trade Route:

In one of his articles, Prof. Norman Finkelstein posted sound questions that most likely will never be credibly addressed. His questions were "Why does Jewry not remember six million Jews murdered in the first Holocaust of 1919? Why do they not seek compensation for the first six million? Why do they not recall the six million, murdered in 1919? Or is the "6-Million" story nothing but a Cabbalistic prophecy which needs to be fulfilled in order to justify the annexation of Palestine?"³⁰ He raised those questions reminding the international community that the same holocaust scenario has been propagandized before WWII, except it was claimed to have occurred in Ukraine. Obviously the exposure of such a concealed failed holocaust plan to the public would cast major doubts on the veracity of the alleged Nazi holocaust. However, once published, shredding all related documents referring to a pre-WWII holocaust is simply impossible as illustrated in this quote: "Six million men and women are dying; eight-hundred-thousand children cry for bread. And this fate is upon them through no fault of their own, through no transgression of the law of God or man; but through the awful tyranny of war and a bigoted lust for Jewish blood. In this threatened holocaust of human life ..."

[The American Hebrew, Oct. 31, 1919, Nbr. 582]³¹. That might not be the earliest declared holocaust against the Jews. Here are two early "Holocaust" tales from the Talmud: "Gittin 57b. (p.266) claims that four billion Jews were killed by the Romans in the city of Bethar. While Gittin 58a pp. 269-270 claims that 16 million Jewish children were wrapped in scrolls and burned alive by the Romans. (note: Ancient demography indicates that there were not 16 million Jews in the entire world at that time,...)".³² The art of hibernating myth-based plans to be reactivated at the right time and the right place is an ancient Jewish practice. Like the Ukraine and the Auschwitz pre and the post WWII holocausts, only few are aware that the legendary "Promise Land" myth was in fact hibernated when first failed around 586 B.C. to be reactivated at the right time and the right place in 1948 A.C.

By the year 1945, the second stage of the holocaust saga was already underway. The attention in Europe was successfully diverted from the Nazi holocaust to the systematic mass migration of European Jews to the "Promised Land" of Palestine. Unlike the holocaust myth, only handfuls of scholars and historians around the world questioned the "Promised Land" Myth to start with. To his surprise, Kamal Salibi, a Christian Professor at the Department of History and Archaeology at the American University of Beirut, Lebanon discovered by coincidence that most of the geographical names mentioned in the Torah actually exist to date in Arabia, namely between Yemen and the holy city of Makkah. He published his stunning findings in an English book titled "The Bible Came from Arabia". The same conclusion was reached by Dr. Ahmed Dawood – A Muslim Syrian researcher who published his findings in 1991 in a book titled "The Arabs, the Samies, the Hebrews, the Israelis and the Jews". Alongside many stunning notions published in his book, Dr. Dawood presented a rough sketch of a tiny landscape in Asir region south of Makkah, where he pinpointed the actual whereabouts of the biblical Misr (referred to later as Egypt) the homeland of Moses and the Israeli tribe and the nearby Yerushalayim* - the legendary Dawood (David) temple. Furthermore, during 1994, Dr. Zeyad Mona also published a book presenting his findings as declared by his book title "The Torah Geography- Misr and the Israelis in Asir". On the other hand, Professor Israel Finkelstein (Head of the Archeology Department, Tel Aviv University) and Dr Neil Asher Silberman (director of historical interpretation for the Ename Center for Public Archaeology and a contributing editor to Archaeology magazine), two prominent Jewish scholars published a book titled "The Bible Unearthed:

Archaeology's New Vision of Ancient Israel and the Origin of Its Sacred Texts". The Authors argue that no compelling archaeological evidence existed for many biblical stories in the Promised Land of Palestine and assert that, archeologically, there was no single exodus, no unified conquest of Canaan, and no glorious, vast kingdom of David and Solomon³³. Al Tajdeed research division filled in the last jigsaw block regarding the Palestinian Promised Land myth. They set up a research team to investigate the ancient Arabic history looking for clues confirming or refuting the claim that all Israeli prophets where in fact Arabs belonging to Arabia. The findings were overwhelming. The conclusion was that Arabia history has been literally kidnapped, and most of the biblical events, figures and geography had been snatched from Bethel and Beersheba at the holy city of Makkah and from the Surat Mountains in Asir and were systematically projected over the South Syrian region. The landscapes which were nominated to become the promised lands were accordingly named by their current names during the time of Helena (the mother of Constantine 248 – 329 A.C.) to coincide with the Biblical geographical accounts. The researchers identified the real name and even the physical characters of the famous Pharaoh whom turned out to be a tyrant Arabic tribal Sheikh ruling one of the strategic Misrs (Caravan service village) located to the south of Makkah along the Incense trade route at the Surat Mountains in Asir. They published their findings in a 550 pages Arabic book titled "The Surat Call- The kidnap of the Prophets Geography"³⁴ and also produced a condensed English version illustrating few of the findings in this particular location.³⁵

One of the major findings outlined in the above mentioned book is that ancient Arab rabbis engineered two Mythical Promised Lands for their generations. The location of the first one was engineered and included in the first edition of the Babylonian Syriac Torah. Dr Kamal Salibi and Dr. Zeyad Mona accidentally discovered this version of the Promised Land in Asir Mountains as both were linguistically qualified to study the original Aramaic text. The land allocated to the Israelis tribes as per this Syriac Torah was stretching from the holy city of Makkah all the way south to the Yemen Borders. In other word, it contained all of the richest areas and most of the strategic Misrs along the Incense trade rout. Had they successfully possessed that "Promised Land" the Jews then would have controlled one of the most thriving economical sectors of the ancient world. The Asiri version of the “Promised Land” was approximately 830,000 km². Al Salibi commented that there is no way that such a sizable land could have been occupied or ruled by the Jewish tribes alone given their insignificant influence, abilities and numbers in relation to the well- established kingdoms in the same rich and strategic area. Obviously, the rabbis during the 70 years of exile in Babel decided to document their rights in the Misrs that Nebuchadrezzar expelled them from following their corruption of the region's economy. They simply drafted a holy deed of the richest region in Arabia and slipped it amongst the authentic word of God under the hope that the Arab goyim would be naive enough to recognize the will of God in favor of his “chosen people”. Apparently the goyim then were too clever to be deceived by the claimed words of God. The first to push them away from their lands were the Canaanites who were living in Mamre. This is why this tribe has been heavily cursed for no rational reasons in the later versions of the Syriac Torahs. They have been cursed even before they came into existence as one learns from the drunken Noah tale mentioned above. Apparently, that was not enough punishment for the goyim who refused to give away their land to the “chosen people”; their land had been declared as private property of the sons of Abraham, as per Genesis 12:6 "Abram went as far as the sacred tree of Moreh in a place called Shechem. The Canaanites were still living in the land at that time, but the LORD appeared to Abram and promised, "I will give this land to your family forever." Abram then built an altar there for the LORD." To ensure that only the sons of Israel (Jacob) get the land, Ishmael, the older son of Abraham had to disappear from this heavenly promise leaving back only Isaac the grandfather of the Israelis. Genesis 17:18 fulfills this requirement "Then he asked God, "Why not let Ishmael inherit what you have promised me?" But God answered: No! You and Sarah will have a son. His name will be Isaac, and I will make an everlasting promise to him and his descendants." This is how the Promised Land myth came about. Nevertheless, all other targeted tribes including the Canaanites never gave away their land in Arabia. The Canaanites are still living in their land 14 km away from Makkah in a place called by its ancient name until now, Namra, which is pronounced Mamre in the English translated Torahs.

Having failed to secure the Asiri Promised Land, the rabbis abandoned the documented plan and were gradually absorbed in Arabia and the neighboring countries including Egypt. The newly born Promised Land myth however went into hibernation awaiting the right time to surface again. Around 282 B.C. the right time arrived. Egypt, Syria and Iraq were nominated for the second version of the Promised Land myth.

Myth # 4: The Promised Land ver. 02 - Holy Deeds of the Silk Trade Route:

In his book, The Founding Myths of Israeli Politics, Roger Garaudy explains how the Attorney-General at Nuremberg court, Robert M.W. Kempner, declared decisive evidence with respect to the holocaust: "With these lines, Heydrich and his collaborators were officially given the task of legal murder (of Jews)." Kempner was referring in his statement to the possible direct orders for the extermination of Jews in a German written correspondence between Goering and his superior. Goering (a convicted German Nazi official) however protested against the English translation of the German word "Gesamtlosung", meaning general solution, as "final solution", which is "Endlosung". This led Attorney Jackson to acknowledge the falsification and to reestablish the true meaning.³⁶ The Nuremberg court however approved the translation of the German word "Gesamtlosung" as "Final Solution" to the Jewish question. The term "Final Solution" became since a synonym for the 'extermination of the Jews'. Interestingly enough, mistranslation and misinterpretation was the main tool utilized to shift the Promised Lands myth from Asir Mountains to the whole land between the rivers Nile and Euphrates.

A new colonial superpower rose in Europe. The Greek Alexander the great conquered Egypt, Syria and Iraq. Ptolemy Ben Philadelphus, the Greek General ruled Egypt shortly after Alexander's death. Around 282 B.C. Ptolemy congregated the Jewish rabbis in Egypt and requested that the latest revelation at that time be translated to Greek. A team of seventy rabbis produced the translation of the Syriac Torah. It was called the Septuagint³⁷. In that Greek book, a slight alteration was introduced during the translation process. Every Arabic Syriac word ܡܙܪܝܡ which reads "mzarm"³⁸ was translated to this Greek word "Αἰγύπτου" which reads "Ae-gypti", i.e Mizraim was transformed during the translation process to Ae-gypti. This indescribable act was all that was needed to create a large scale long-life illusion. Unlike Misr or Mizeruim, Ae-gypti or E-gypt as pronounced today has always referred to an internationally well-known vast and highly civilized ancient country. The moment the Greek Torah was approved by Ptolemy Ben Philadelphus, it did what every book does best. It simply educated people and formulated their thoughts, perceptions and faith. Being a holy book ensured it's widespread and dominance. Because no one thus far had asked the simple fundamental question of how come the name "Misr" in the Syriac Torah was changed into "Egypt" in the Greek Torah, consequently, since 282 B.C, the Europeans as well as all of the Greeks' widespread colonies portrayed Egypt as an "Israeli land" that was roamed by all of the Israeli Patriarchs and prophets and it was the land of the Israelis exodus and the land of the doomed pharaohs. All of these implications were projected on Egypt as a consequence of mistranslation or more precisely due to fraud and forgery. This false "sacred" information on Egypt's role in the Patriarchs eventful geography was passed on generation after generation until it became an irrefutable fact. This was happening on an international scale, whereas the ancient Egyptians themselves have not seriously resisted this infiltration and fictitious implantation of scenes and events into their history and heritage. In fact, they might have viewed the Septuagint's claim that the Patriarchs had dwelt in their land as another privilege to the Egyptian already glamorous historical fame³⁹. What the ancient Egyptians missed, however, is that by accepting this foreign forged addendum into their unwritten history, they have in fact accepted, in the long term, to give away their land and civilization to a little insignificant tiny Arabian tribe, while their great Egyptian civilization is being absorbed into the 2nd version of the "Promised Land" saga alongside Iraq and Syria. This ancient deal is the source of today's confusion and frustration of Egyptian scholars when every now and then someone arrives from overseas to insolently boast his ancestors presumed role in building the great pyramids! This is why archeologists had thus far failed to excavate any evidence of any significant Jewish heritage, let alone the claimed Jewish exudes from Egypt, or even manage to identify the famous Pharaoh from amongst the Egyptian mighty kings, or even find this word "Pharaoh" in the Egyptian ancient language. This will sadly remain the case until Egyptian scholars and officials decide to establish independent research teams to review their history from the time the Septuagint was issued, and objectively examine the damage inflicted by this Greek Torah on their kings' reputation and civilization achievements. Opening the "Promised Land" file wide for independent academic international investigation might be the only way for the Egyptian nation to escape the Septuagint sacred dungeon.

Ptolemy Ben Philadelphus was well aware that the Greek Torah was misleading believers with respect to the prophet's geography. The reward however is that the Greek's colony, all occupied lands between the Nile and the Euphrates, would become a holy land, thus gaining international interest and commercial rewards especially during the pilgrimage season. Their allies, the Jews who were namely Arab betrayers of their own covenant and nation, were to help the foreign superpower in controlling the silk trade route. In return the Jews will finally rule other Misrs, strategically located this time on the other international trade route running from China to Europe. To accomplish this "Promised Land" plan, Iraq was made the birthplace of Abraham and Egypt was the Birthplace of Moses. Then they started with the help of the then superpower to name the villages and small towns in between by names already mentioned in the hibernated Asiri version of the Promised Land. This process is practiced until now whereby the Zionist authorities at the state of Israel are continuously renaming areas to match the names mentioned in the Greek Torah. With time, the vast majority of the new generation would think that the names of the areas in Palestine are as ancient as Moses time when in fact they might have been given these names shortly before they were born. This is almost the case with the names Palestine, Lebanon and Jordan. If properly investigated, one would realize that these names were dropped on these countries during the Romans empire which is more than 1700 years after Abraham time. From now until the truth is revealed and announced, Egypt (Mighty kingdom) will remain Misr (tiny service village), and its mighty Kings will remain the cursed Pharaohs and the monotheist ancient Egyptian civilization will remain in the eyes of the world as a pagan nation. On the other hand, the Jews, Christians and Muslims will remain in the dark with respect to all or some of their most important genuinely scared locations, and Egyptologists will continue scratching their heads for failing to find any credible clues to the biblical alleged events in Egypt. These are only a fraction of the consequences of the "Promised Land" Myth, and the reader could add more if what is mentioned here turns out to be true.

Myth #5: Egypt and Israel – An Empire and a tribe:

One of the major arguments that holocaust revisionists put forward is the puzzling question labeling Richard E. Harwood's book "Did Six Million Really Die?" The reason for this big question mark is that the "The World Almanac for 1947 states that back in 1939 the world's Jewish population was 15,688,259. The Almanacs figures were supplied by the American Jewish Committee. Next the Jewish owned New York Times of Feb. 22, 1948 stated that the world Jewish population in that year amounted from " 15,600,000 to 18,700,000 in the addition to the 600,000 to 700,000 living in Palestine." How could the Jewish population increase so rapidly over the war years if they had lost 6,000,000 people?"⁴⁰

⁴⁰WAS THERE REALLY A HOLOCAUST? By Dr. E. R. Fields- <http://christianparty.net/fields.htm>

Fiddling the numbers of populations, ranks, distances, prices, dates etc, is common in the Jewish history. In fact, myth-making and myth-modification dictate such a daring exploit. One major fiddling with numbers that was needed to shape the Nile to Euphrates "Promise Land" myth was the number of the sons of Israel during Moses time. Biblical events indicate that the Pharaoh (supposedly one of Egypt kings) had numerous in-person disputes, conflicts and dialog with the Israelis and their leaders Moses and Haron. Knowing that the Egyptian kings and their nation during Moses time (1300 B.C) were ranked as a superpower in the region, the Israelis must have been of a sizable number and strength to pose a threat to the Egyptian might as implied in the Torah tales. One simple question would easily estimate the compatible size between the then Egyptian people and the size of the Israelis. The Question is how old was the Egyptian nation? And equally how old was the "Israeli sons" during Moses time? The answer is more than 6000 years for Egypt and more than 200 years for the sons of Israel. This means that the Egyptian must have been counted in millions, whereas the sons of Israel accounted for few thousands if not hundreds. To be more precise, knowing that only four fathers separated Moses from his grandfather Israel (Jacob), simple mathematical extrapolation with proper scientific assumptions can easily reveal a close estimate of the Israeli census. Calculation indicated that the entire number of Israelis during Moses time ranged only and only from 750 to 3000 individuals. Only quarter of those left Misr with Moses during the exodus, i.e. around 150 to 750 persons at the extreme possible most⁴¹. The rest were either pagans or too coward or too rich to migrate with Moses to the holy town of Bait El Al Mokadsh at the Paran of Makkah (Beth Hamikdash). With such facts at hand, based on what did the Jews, Christian and Muslims clergies portrayed the sons of Israel as peers to the Egyptian nation in their theological literatures? Based on what could one mock scientists, scholars, researchers, archeologists and humanity in general by claiming that this tribal family built the mighty Pyramids and manage to run away with it? What is the size of this "Egypt" that a crowd of 3000 Israelis plus almost an equal number of Egyptians formulated the total land inhabitants as implied in many of the Greek Torah phrases? The answer lies once again in the power of the Mythical number fiddling, the main purpose of which was to support the Nile to Euphrates Promised Land myth. Subsequently, the insignificant number of 150 or so believers who moved away with Moses turned into almost half a million as stated in the Torah, all were mobilized overnight! This is just a sample of fraud and deception practiced by the ancient rabbis to deceive the entire world. Implementing such practice today on the same scale should not be surprising.

Erasing History – Planted Trojans & the Noah flood formatting utility:

In his book, the Holocaust or Hoax? Jürgen Graf commented, “Since the defenders of the orthodox Holocaust image could not possibly be content themselves with "eyewitness testimony" alone, they were compelled to come up with a number of documents which allegedly prove the gas chamber genocide. In doing so, two possibilities were open to them: 1-Manufacture forgeries 2-Deliberately distort authentic documents.”⁴² It would have been more accurate if Graf reversed the order of his suggested possibilities. i.e. “Deliberately distort authentic documents” followed by “Manufacturing forgeries”. The last time authentic documents were destroyed occurred unnoticed under the eyes of the entire world. It occurred during the Gulf war (1990-1991). Prior to the war outbreak, Dr. Pierre Rossi made a strange, out of context plea. He pleaded for the protection of Iraq museums and the ancient heritage archiving libraries in Iraq. His plea went unnoticed; for such locations were not military oriented, so why one would think that they would be targeted by the contemporary Ptolemy's smart bombs? As Rossi anticipated, on 18th of May, 2004, Al- Jazeera Channel reported the bombardment of numerous museums and libraries in Iraq. Like Rossi, and through this paper, we will make the second part of the plea to the scholars and archeologists around the world and to the Iraqi officials in particular. Do not repeat our ancestors' fatal mistake, do not allow Trojans to be built into your heritage. Watch out for artifacts returning back to Iraq claimed to have been stolen and smuggled out of borders during the Gulf war. Most likely they are faked items, especially if they contain information related in any way to the claimed ancient Jewish presence in Iraq. Don't get excited by an item returning back with a report from some expert informing you that Abraham or Sarah or any holy figure are mentioned in this or that clay. You might be happy to hear the good news today, but your sons will pay the bill in few years time. Subject such items when presented to extensive scrutiny and analysis before accepting them back to the country's heritage, as they will act as destructive Trojans when the time to activate them comes.

The Jewish history has demonstrated to the investigators that it is possible to claim other nations Lands or gain unmerited international dominance and power or high-profile social status by two means 1- Destroy and Replace 2- Trojans Implantations. Both require time to return profit as illustrated below:

⁴² Holocaust or Hoax? The Arguments by Jürgen Graf- <http://www.vho.org/GB/Books/hoh/index.html>

- 1- Destroy and Replace: This tactic comes under two forms. (A) -The Holocaust lack of authentic or misinterpreted documents as demonstrated by many revisionist researches and the Iraqi museums examples are one, which involves physical destruction of documents and/or artifacts and the eventual discovery or return of physically similar others containing forged information serving the intentions of the forgers. (B)- The other method is easier and more effective. A good example is the Noah flood myth. This genuine myth mentioned in the Torah, the Quran as well as the Babylonian history has been utilized to mentally destroy all mankind history. The reason for this act was to secure and support the Jewish supremacy myth. Planet earth was inhabited by millions of people before and after the birth of Jacob (Israel). They had established impressive civilizations and kingdoms all over the world and had developed science, philosophy, literature, music and art. Where would the few chosen people fit amongst all this impressive crowd and how would they justify their alleged breed supremacy? The answer was to officially erase all human beings records and achievements. Flood planet earth with water and eradicate everybody alive. Make a fresh start with Noah and his three sons, then isolate one of the brothers via the holy curse of the drunken Noah. Marginalize the other and praise the last one for no good given reason, the last one happened to be the grandfather of Abraham. The next step is repeated in the following sequence. Isolate Ishmael and his mother again for no good given reason, and praise his brother Isaac for no good reason either. This way Jacob (Israel) the son of Isaac will mythically inherit Noah's blessings via Sam, Abraham, and Isaac. This is how the ancient rabbis designed their holy breed myth and the rest of the human beings became goyim as explained above. While the fact of the matter is that a local flood did occur in Arabia during Noah's time but it was confined to the Surat Mountains and the Twig Mountains⁴³. It drowned all livings in that area except those on the Ark and their animals. The Ark must be lying somewhere on the Surat mountains between Makkah and Baha city. The advocated ark found in Turkey is most likely a desperate attempt to maintain about to get exposed the ancient forgery. Following the flood, Sam was reported in the Arabic history to have dwelt at Sitidama, which is an existing village located south of Makkah. The Quran as well as the ancient history refute the global flood advocated by the Torah; historical narratives indicated that neither the Egyptians nor the Chinese have ever heard of the flood when it occurred⁴⁴. The clever part in this myth is that it was a modification of another older genuine one. As per ancient Arabic history, Nosh the son of Sheath the son of Adam⁴⁵ had three sons, Sur, Mur and Rub. Their descendents as per the Arabic linguistic system are referred to as ASur, AMur and ARub. Those people were later known as the Assyrians, Amorites and the Arabs. Only the Arabs remained at and near home where Adam used to be at Makkah, while the rest migrated to become Europeans and Asians. The ancient rabbis are very much aware of these historical facts, but unfortunately, they modified it and represented to the Europeans to suit their desires.

- 2- Trojans Implantations: The Troy Greek myth is the closet abstract literature that could explain how this tactic could sabotage or claim the merits of others well-established heritages. The well-protected mighty fort of troy could not be penetrated from outside. The trick was to convince or lure the protectors to allow an innocent looking cell to peacefully enter the fort. While everyone is a sleep and unaware of the peril they allowed in, the cell was activated and (Achilles) was to handle the rest. This tactic was very successful with the ancient Egyptians. Their civilization was so deep-rooted, strong and well established. How could an insignificant tribe claim and subsequently take over the valley of the Nile from the Egyptians? The Lessons illustrated in the Troy myth was the answer. The Egyptians peacefully accepted a tempting foreign cell to enter the fort of their heritage. The cell contained the following code “Abraham dwelt in Egypt 1400 years ago”. This might have been good news to some early Christian convert Egyptians, other more skeptic might have restrained their resistance to such act wondering what harm this piece of historical information could do if allowed to settle down in the Egyptian awareness? Having opened the door for accepting foreign bodies, a second Trojan was allowed in: “Moses and the Israelis where in Egypt 1000 years ago and the exodus was from Egypt”. Following a series of unquestioned Trojans, the Achilles Trojan was admitted in, “By order of Heaven, all lands roamed by the Patriarchs between Iraq and Egypt belong to descendents of their grandson Jacob

(Israel)". This Trojan completed the cycle and the Egyptian found themselves besieged from within. They could not return back now without major penalty. Returning back would emotionally and psychologically sound and feel like turning ones back on Abraham and Moses and faith in heaven. Complicating the matter further, laymen might recognize the effect of the ancient Trojans and how it slipped in and shaped their current prospective, but due to the weight of 2000 years of living in deception, that might not be case with scholars, academics, rabbis, priests and Imams. Even the tourist industry officials would have a good reason to ignore the crucified truth. Moving on to other nations who had been surrounded by ancient Jewish Trojans, the Palestinian, Lebanese and Jordanian academic and historical bodies ought to investigate the time when their lands had been given their contemporary names, and compare the timing to the date of the biblical events. Then they need to revert to themselves with a single question. What have they got to do with the biblical events? The Iraqis need to know when have they been labeled with the name Mesopotamia and Why? This name belongs to a location inside Adams Paradise at the Surat Mountains located precisely between 2 rivers at the meeting point⁴⁶. What has it to do with Babel? And who made this mix up of geographical locations and Why? As it stands, the bill to pay for accepting the fabricated journeys of the Patriarchs in Egypt, Syria and Iraq is described by Professor Israel Shahak whom wrote, "In May 1993, Ariel Sharon formally proposed in the Likud Convention that Israel should adopt the 'Biblical borders' concept as its official policy...in the south, all of Sinai and a part of northern Egypt up to the environs of Cairo; in the east, all of Jordan and a large chunk of Saudi Arabia, all of Kuwait and a part of Iraq south of the Euphrates; in the north, all of Lebanon and all of Syria together with a huge part of Turkey (up to lake Van)"⁴⁷

Forging books and documents – Writing new history:

Forging and or censoring documents are a must in the myth-making industry. It starts with the modification of the Jewish source of information, namely the Torah and the Talmud, before presenting them as the word of God. However, this poses many technical and administrative challenges. For example, following the release of the Jew-Goyim myth, how would the Jews maintain a respectful and peaceful relationship while living in other peoples' lands at a time when they hold a holy book that instructs them to treat all non-Jewish with vainglory. The solution has always been to veil the printed version of the holy book when and where required. For example, the translators of the English Soncino version of the Talmud sometimes render the Hebrew word goyim (Gentiles) under any number of disguise words such as "heathen, Cuthean, Kushite, Egyptian, idolater" etc. But these are actually references to Gentiles (all non-Jews). Footnotes for certain passages in the Soncino Talmud translation state: "Cuthean (Samaritan) was here substituted for the original goy..."⁴⁸ Another method is to depend on the goyim's lack of knowledge on the ancient Arabic language (Aramaic) and leave the text untranslated. Professor Israel Shahak mentions the following extraordinary example in this respect " In 1962, a part of the Maimonidean Code referred to above, the so-called Book of Knowledge, which contains the most basic rules of Jewish faith and practice, was published in Jerusalem in a bilingual edition, with the English translation facing the Hebrew text. The latter has been restored to its original purity, and the command to exterminate Jewish infidels appears in it in full: 'It is a duty to exterminate them with one's own hands.' In the English translation this is somewhat softened to: 'It is a duty to take active measures to destroy them.' But then the Hebrew text goes on to specify the prime examples of 'infidels' who must be exterminated: 'Such as Jesus of Nazareth and his pupils, and Tzadoq and Baitos and their pupils, may the name of the wicked rot'. Not one 'word of this appears in the English text on the facing page (78a)."⁴⁹ To avoid losing the original text following censorship, masking, omissions and mistranslations, the original text is kept in another book called the Hesronot Ha-shas. A printed copy of this book was reprinted in 1989 by Sinai Publishing of Tel-Aviv.⁵⁰ In addition to censoring their own books to suit the political and social circumstances, there are evidences that other nations' books and heritage were also censored in the same fashion, except that no reference to the original falsification is made as the case with Hesronot Ha-shas book. We will cite here one example of evidence in the form of a testimony made by one of those committed such act. The testimony was written in Arabic and was found and included in a novel of a Syrian scholar - Walid Al Hagar- titled

⁴⁷ Jewish History, Jewish Religion by Professor Israel Shahak

The following is a translation of the testimony *"O brother, kindly know, that I am no more than a powerless slave who receives orders, I am back to Tolaitela from Fes only on the order of the King (Philip) carrying with us the books from the Treasury of the Sultan . The lord desired that my friends matter be revealed. Philip gave him a fatal poison, which we brought with us from Fes as he requested; I am with no doubt going to face death by the same poison, sooner or later. I will not be let free to spread the word about the one hundred and fifty writers that I am among, who are working secretly day and night to rewrite Arabian Manuscripts which we were given. Perhaps, The long live Sultan ordered the execution after we became aware of his desire to change manuscripts of Ebar (book of lessons), which we carried with us to this monastery from the Sultan's treasury, which does not in origin hold the word (barbar) in its title . Be aware O brother that this is my testimony that I reveal before my death, and I swear to the great lord and the holy Quran that I have myself witnessed the Moriskas writers rewrite the (book of lessons) and replace the word (Eerabi) by the word (Arabi) in the book of ibn khaldoun, adding chapters praising the barbar as the Sultan requested and propagating Defamation of Arabs , upon the wishes of the Monasteries deleting units of what ibn khaldoun wrote down. O brother be aware that the poison we brought with us from Fes will forever cover this truth from the whole world. Be aware that this paper is my testimony before the lord in the judgment day, and this table of contents where I burry my testimony is one of four which include the books which have been amended. And what Muslims think are manuscripts belonging to their treasuries are Forged Copies, rewritten with similar handwritings and signed as originals. The Spanish Moriskas and I, who hid my Islam and my Arabism, have contributed to this ugly work as the Muslims around me did, powerless. We work together with the Jews to serve the Eskorial and King Philip the third the mafon who decided to force us out of Andalusia. O lord, help get this table of content out of this Monastery. I am going to throw it out of the hole I hope it would remain safe. Until I or one of the faithful reach it. This is my testimony in the judgment day. And now I testify that there is No God but ALLA and Mohamed is his messenger and slave."*⁵²

Walid Al Hagar commented that this is how the Arabic "Ebar" and "Almubtda Wal Khaber" books were transformed and this is how Ibn Khaldoun's famous book was found containing pages defaming Arabs. Four copies of the Ebar book have been forged. One of the copies returned back to the Fes library to replace the original one. Another one was sent to the Great Mosque of Kairouan in Tunisia. The other two were quietly slipped into the Book house in Cairo, Egypt. As to Ibn khaldoun's famous book, Walid Al Hagar commented, "Let it be known that the copy found at the Egyptian Qurawin Great Mosque was brought in by a westerner named Alfred Bell. He was working in the library with another western named Livy Brofonsky, he was a Jew."⁵³

Maintaining the lucrative Myths – Europe, Back to Galileo Galilei time:

While confirming all the ordeals, sufferings and mass execution that happened during WWII, the alleged occurrence of the Jewish Holocaust in the numbers and details has been singled out and portrayed in schools curriculums, Hollywood movies, memorial museums and numerous literatures. Questioning this exaggeratedly emphasized episode of the war is illegal in a number of European countries. It is called "Holocaust denial". Laws have been legislated to prosecute and fine any truth seeker in this matter, including in: Austria (article 3h Verbotsgesetz 1947), Belgium (Belgian Negationism Law), the Czech Republic under section 261, France (Loi Gayssot), Germany (§ 130 (3) of the penal code) and the Auschwitzlüge law section 185, Lithuania, The Netherlands under articles 137c and 137e, Poland, Romania, Slovakia, Spain and Switzerland (article 261bis of the Penal Code). Despite cruising in direct collision with Article 10 of the European Convention on Human Rights, which guarantees freedom of expression, these hyper sensitive laws are justified by the European Court of Human Rights as declared in this quote: "invoking free speech to propagate denial of crimes against humanity is, according to the Court's case-law, contrary to the spirit in which the Convention was adopted in the first place. Reliance on free speech in such cases would thus constitute an abuse of a fundamental right."⁵⁴ Under any perspective, interpretation or rationale, and no matter how eloquently phrased the given reasons might be, history has repeatedly demonstrated that truth will eventually prevail as it is simply too extensive and lucid to be masked or missed. It is us who choose to close our eyes mostly because of imposed physical or mental fear.

A good example of mental fear was practiced during the twenties of this century. The ancient Egyptian Royal kings were about to be called for testimony before the entire world. Egyptology was thriving, and ancient tombs and burial grounds were being discovered and explored. Eventually the alleged "Pharaohs" would reveal their true identity, titles and authentic accounts. The inscriptions on the walls would be read and translated. What would happen if the Egyptian kings do not refer to the occurrence of any of the biblical events in their kingdom? What would happen if the Egyptian Kings reject being titled "Pharaohs" or their people by the name "Misris"? Had Egypt been in a war then, the ideal solution would be to bombard the Pyramids with smart bombs. Because that was not the case, a desperate quick action was unleashed instead in an attempted to discourage any further attempts to uncover the truth. A myth was needed to protect the ancient myths. In late March 1923, a novelist named Mari Corelli (Mary Mackay) published a warning that there would be dire consequences for anyone who had entered the sealed tomb! The myth of "Pharaoh's curse" was in the making. Rumors were spreading, it was said that at the moment of Lord Carnarvon's death, the lights went out in Cairo, and that back in England his dog, Susie, howled and died at the same instant. These reported events are difficult to prove or disprove. However, other facts were simply invented by the press. One newspaper printed a curse reportedly found in the tomb: "Those who enter this sacred tomb shall swiftly be visited by wings of death." There was no such curse, but there was one inscription found on an Anubis shrine that stated: "It is I who hinder the sand from choking the secret chamber. I am for the protection of the deceased". This was correctly reported to the public, but one reporter added his own words to the inscription: "and I will kill all those who cross this threshold into the sacred precincts of the Royal King who lives forever." In addition, newspapers appear to have arbitrarily killed off many of the people surrounding the tomb's discovery. According to one list, 26 people associated with the discovery or excavation died within a decade. In reality, only six people died during the first decade, while many others lived to an old age.⁵⁵ Fortunately, this myth didn't hinder archeologists from bringing the Egyptian kings to the testimony stand. Unfortunately, however, hardly anyone is listening to what the kings are saying.

As to the imposed physical fear to deter uncovering the truth, Galileo provides a good example here. Despite his love and passion of the bible, Galileo was prosecuted and convicted on charges of heresy by an authority that unilaterally confined the interpretation of the bible to its members. The biblical authority then eloquently succeeded in legitimizing the prosecution of the truth, but only for while. On October 31, 1992, the Roman Catholic Church finally admitted that it had erred in its 359-year-old persecution of the 17th century astronomer and physicist Galileo Galilei. In spite of his declared condemnation, the human instinctive urge to seek knowledge and wisdom prevailed and many courageous scientists surpassed the irrationally enforced legislations and pursued their quest to substantiate or refute Galileo's scientific claims. Apparently, and despite arriving to the twenty first century, the European holocaust revisionists' fait is to endure what Galileo has endured then. The only difference is the stage, actors and time, but the essence of the scenario is the same.

A Prophet in USA – The Myth of the Third "Promised Land" in the making:

In 1823, a prophet appeared in Ohio - USA by the name of Joseph Smith. The American prophet declared that he was visited by an angel named Moroni, who told him of an ancient record containing God's interchanges with the former inhabitants of the American continent. In 1827, Joseph retrieved this record, inscribed on thin golden plates, and shortly afterward began translating its words by a "gift of God." The resulting manuscripts, the Book of Mormon⁵⁶ followed by THE BOOK OF ABRAHAM⁵⁷ were published in March 1830 and 1842 respectively. On April 6, 1830, Joseph Smith organized The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints⁵⁸ and became its first president.⁵⁹ In the Book of Mormon, Joseph informed that the first settlers in America were the Jaredites who came from Mesopotamia (allegedly Iraq) when the Tower of Babel collapsed, and they occupied the land for some 1,800 years. They had died out by 600 B.C. when Lehi and his company of Jewish migrants came from Jerusalem, and their descendants developed into the segregated nations of Nephites and Lamanites, named after two of Lehi's sons. The Nephites finally perished around 400 A.D., where the Lamanites persisted in a degenerate state as Red Indians.⁶⁰ The position of these books and their relation to the overall Jewish ancient plans is detailed in Al Tajdeed's publication⁶¹. What concerns us here is the consistent tactics of modifying ancient genuine myths to suit the intentions of the writers. To establish a holy myth granting the sons of Israel ownership of North America, the Israelis had to be transported from the Middle East to America. As per chapter 18:2, "Now I, Nephi, did not work the timbers after the manner which was learned by men, neither did I build the ship after the manner of men; but I did build it after the manner which the Lord had shown unto me; wherefore, it was not after the manner of men".⁶² Once the ship is made to cross the oceans, the promised American land is roamed by the Israelis long before Christianity, as implied in chapter 18:2: "And it came to pass after we had all gone down into the ship, and had taken with us our provisions and things which had been commanded us. We did put forth into the sea and were driven forth before the wind towards the Promised Land."⁶³ Upon arrival to America, they refereed to it as the Promised Land 18:22 -25" And it came to pass that I, Nephi, did guide the ship, that we sailed again towards the Promised Land. 23 And it came to pass that after we had sailed for the space of many days *we did arrive at the Promised Land; and we went forth upon the land, and did pitch our tents; and we did call it the Promised Land. 24 And it came to pass that we did begin to till the earth, and we began to plant seeds; yea, we did put all our seeds into the earth, which we had brought from the land of Jerusalem. And it came to pass that they did grow exceedingly; wherefore, we were blessed in abundance. 25 And it came to pass that we did find upon the land of promise, as we journeyed in the wilderness, that there were beasts in the forests of every kind, both the cow and the ox, and the ass and the horse, and the goat and the wild goat, and all manner of wild animals, which were for the use of men. And we did find all manner of ore, both of gold, and of silver, and of copper."⁶⁴ Having prepared for the mythical arrival of ancient Israelis to America, and planted the seeds to arrogate the soul of Native Americans "Red Indians", here came the key phrase for the current stage. As per chapter 15:14, "And at that day shall the remnant of our seed know that they are of the house of Israel, and that they are the covenant people of the Lord; and then shall they know and come to the knowledge of their forefathers, and also to the knowledge of the gospel of their Redeemer, which was ministered unto their fathers by him. Wherefore, they shall come to the knowledge of their Redeemer and the very points of his doctrine that they may know how to come unto him and be saved."⁶⁵

The harmless mythical Trojan has been allowed in America via the helpless Native American (Red Indians) defenseless heritage. The promised land of America like the rest of the previous promised lands in Asir of Arabia, Egypt, Iraq, Lebanon and Palestine, will eventually be declared private property of the Israeli people of the lord. This will occur either by the appearance of another American prophet declaring the activation of the 19th centaury pre planted Trojan, or through an intellectual conference concluding a new interpretation of the holy book of Mormon. Studying their impressive historical success in the Arab world (now called Middle East), it is envisaged that this will occur when another superpower is on the rise and is about to dominate the Globe. Jewish organizations will be quicker than any to establish good ties with it, and would offer their economical assistance and experience in a further breach of the Lord's covenant in return for further financial gains and control of the American goyim this time. America will then be at its knees; for it has already been declared a Promised Land pending action to be ruled by the new superpower's tiny Allies in favor of the new supreme Ptolemy. A holocaust hoax of some kind or most likely a real wide scale destructive civil war might be staged when required to reach this ultimate goal.

Benjamin Franklin (1706 – 1790), one of the best-known Founding Fathers of the United State had apparently foreseen this gloomy future for his country and bluntly stated his famous prophecy posted in this Christian site.⁶⁶ Observers can note that the posting of this prophecy is diminishing day after day from both Internet sites and printed work, eventually it will disappear.

Conclusion - A reflection on the Revisionism Epic:

Revisionism implies standing up against Achilles, sometimes alone to defend one's being because of others' transgression. It means facing an unethical cloned half-divine entity, a mixed breed of good and evil, the left behind seed of an abandoned affiliation between the mortal and Heaven. This extraordinary combination invokes the manlike disguised entity, and explains its source of power unmatched by ordinary men. This entity came into existence long time ago, the time when a blessed tribe in Arabia boldly breached their covenant with Heaven. Few of them realized what it meant to be abandoned by Heaven, and since opted to repent and plea for mercy and forgiveness, while others decided to seal another covenant with another inferior ancient agency to continue maintaining some

⁶⁶ The Christian party - <http://christianparty.net/benjaminfranklin.htm> : "There is a great danger for the United States of America. That great danger is the Jew. Gentlemen, in whichever land the Jews have settled, they have depressed the moral level and lowered the degree of commercial honesty. They have created a State within a State, and when they are opposed, they attempted to strangle the nation financially as in the case of Portugal and Spain. For more than 1700 years they have lamented their sorrowful fate, namely that they were driven out of the motherland; but gentlemen, if the civilized world today should give them back Palestine as their property, they would immediately find pressing reasons for not returning there. Why? Because they are vampires and cannot live on other vampires. They cannot live among themselves. They must live among Christians and others who do not belong to their race. If they are not excluded from the United States by the Constitution, within less than a hundred years they will stream into our country in such numbers that they will rule and destroy us, and change our form of government for which Americans have shed their blood and sacrificed life, property and personal freedom. If the Jews are not excluded, within 200 years our children will be working in the fields to feed the Jews, while they remain in the Counting House gleefully rubbing their hands. I warn you, gentlemen, if you do not exclude the Jew forever, your children's children will curse you in your grave. Their ideas are not those of Americans. The leopard cannot change his spots. The Jews are a danger to this land, and if they are allowed to enter, they will imperil its institutions. They should be excluded by the Constitution - Benjamin Franklin."

source of power. Their methodology was to abuse the accumulated wealth of prophetic knowledge retained from the time of Prophet Adam to make up for the priceless loss. Having lost Heaven, this group licensed themselves to dream of owning earth. They added betrayal to breach, disloyalty to envy and deception to hypocrisy, and they legitimized these devilish acts based on the Jew-Goyim myth. They developed unprecedented long-lasting lust for wealth, land, and control on a global basis to match the priceless loss. They reverted to the source of was their blessing once, and forged it to portray themselves as if they were still the official channel to Heavens' knowledge and wisdom. Synthetic myths since then have surfaced around the world for the first time in human history. Other modified ones propagated amongst nations and epidemically passed on from generation to generation while genuine myths were concealed. Consequently, a complex mix of "holinized" knowledge was brainwashing nations and blurring their commonsense. Conflict between faith and science intensified, and what was once the source of enlightenment became the source of "opium" of nations. No army was needed, only a paper and a rabbinic pen would do in addition to the audacity to claim that what was manually drafted is the word of God. Heaven had repeatedly exposed this fact in the latest revelations. Muslims read in their holy book: "[79] Then woe to those who write the Book with their own hands, and then say: "This is from Allah," to traffic with it for a Miserable price! Woe to them for what their hands do write, and for the gain they make thereby."⁶⁷ They were also cautioned about the far reaching corruption done on an international scale through the translations of the Torah:" [78] There is among them a section who distort the Book with their tongues: (as they read) you would think it is a part of the Book, but it is no part of the Book; and they say, "That is from Allah," but it is not from Allah: it is they who tell a lie against Allah, and (well) they know it!"⁶⁸. Unfortunately, while Palestine was theirs, the early Muslims did not take proper and serious action in response to the heavenly teachings in order to identify and defuse the mythical Trojans built into their heritage, let alone to help Europeans in this aspect. Consequently, the handsome Achilles remained erring at large, depleting resources, occupying lands and subjecting civilizations from within for the favor of his employer. Facing such immortal mythical entity has been the preoccupation of Prophets, disciples, saints and the courageous wise men. Today they are called revisionists. They have seen the other face of the Holocaust myth, so they had the choice of either shying away from the truth and joining the commons or devoting a lifetime declaring this truth to the world, and paying the same price paid by Jesus Christ, Zechariah, Johanna, Galileo etc. Since they found themselves in this line of business, the revisionists need to appreciate the real size of the iceberg. The holocaust is not the main target. It is merely the Nephi timber to cross the meditation sea to Palestine. Had the Holocaust saga failed to achieve the set goal it would have been hibernated and another mythical mean would have been devised. The revisionists need to learn from the prophets how to combat the effects of fictitious myths including the holocaust. The secret is well-known to those who advocate the holocaust myth such as Lipstadt who said "We need not waste time or effort answering the deniers' contentions. It would be never-ending to respond to arguments posed by those who freely falsify findings, quote out of context and simply dismiss reams of testimony..." Dr Lipstadt is right in her approach and wrong in her conclusion, time and effort should not be wasted talking to scholars and officials anymore, they have too much to lose if the truth prevails. All means of communication ought to be devised and directed to the people directly. None of the prophets wasted much time arguing with rabbis, priests or officials. Their concern and focal point was the simple average person. Prophet Mohammed once said, "Let go between me and the people". Like Christianity, his message reached the entire world with this strategy. Equally, the holocaust myth spread around the world when people were deliberately targeted by the allied mass media. Luckily, the holocaust came at a time when the satellite telecommunication is well advanced and convenient. There are not much of arguments to be made or books to be written or evidences to be presented regarding the authenticity of the holocaust. It is about time revisionists make their findings simple and deliver it to the people for their review and judgment. This calls for a need to put more of a media science into their work in order to target Achilles heel. From now until truth prevails, the epic of unleashing the truth from its bondage will continue.
